Major Farm Speech Tonight By Eisenhower

President Ends His Eight-Week Colorado Vacation

DENVER —(UP)— President Eisenhower winds up eight weeks in Colorado today with a flight to Indianapolis for a major farm speech tonight before returning to Washington.

The chief executive will speak from the Butler University Field House at 9 p. m. EST. His plane was scheduled to reach Washington early Saturday.

The Indianapolis speech was part of the GOP "speed-up" campaign to regain control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections. The President and other party leaders have said that unless the Republicans retain a majority in the House and Senate, that political chaos will result.

The eight weeks Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower have spent in Denver have been considerably short of an out-and-out vacation. The Eisenhowers arrived here Aug. 21 just as Congress adjourned and the President put in long hours of consideration on bills left by the departing House and Senate.

513 Bills Acted Upon

Before leaving Lowry Air Force Base today Mr. Eisenhower accepted the resignation of J. Earl Coke as assistant secretary of agriculture and replaced him, by recess appointment, with Ervin L. Peterson, of Salem, Ore., director of the Oregan Department of Agriculture.

As the President departed from the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, the White House made a compilation of presidential work statistics to show that Mr. Eisenhower had done quite a bit more out here this summer and autumn than play golf at the Cherry Hills Country Club.

He acted on 513 bills left for his decision by the 83rd Congress, signed 488 bills and disapproved 25 by pocket veto.

In addition the President signed 420 executive orders and proclamations. He had conferences with more than 225 persons, plus a meeting of the National Security Council and the GOP House and Senate leaders.

Since the President left Washington in August, he has made 17 speeches, including swings through the Middle West, the Northwest and the lower Pacific Coast.

EISENHOWER PRESENTED $226 BY CHILDREN TO AID GOP CAUSE

DENVER (UP) — President Eisenhower's 64th birthday gifts included books, portraits, cakes, two beef cattle and $226 collected by children in the neighborhood of his Denver residence to help elect a Republican Congress.

Acting White House Secretary Murray Snyder said the children did "a considerable amount of canvassing to raise the money. They came to the house of Mrs. John S. Doud, the President's mother-in-law, "in groups and individually" to present their collections and a host of hand-made birthday cards.

Snyder said the money was raised for the President to turn over to Mrs. Ellen Harris, Denver, Republican candidate for Congress.

New Yorker, 61, Completes 6,000 Mile Trip on Raft

PAGO PAGO, Samoa (UP)—A 61-year-old New Yorker completed the longest solo cruise in history today, sailing a balsa raft 6,000 miles across the Pacific from Peru to Samoa in 115 days.

William Willis drifted with the Humboldt Current from South America to Polynesia in a voyage that took him almost 2,000 miles farther and 13 days longer to complete than the famous Kon-Tiki expedition of 1947.

Willis sailed alone, except for a cat and a parrot, on the craft he named the "Seven Little Sisters" because it was made of seven balsa logs.

The New Yorker started his trip June 22 from Callao, Peru. Almost immediately, he dropped from sight and was feared lost.

But Thursday the 34-foot raft was spotted 30 miles northeast of Pago Pago by the government ship Manuatele. Willis declined to leave his raft but accepted a tow to the port of Pago Pago.

Willis was hale and hearty. He was deeply tanned and had a beard that reached to his waist.

He started out with only a little corn, sugar, water and emergency supplies. The bulk of his provisions came from the sea and the skies—fish and rain water.

He sailed the greater distance in silence. He was supposed to send a message twice a day over an emergency radio transmitter he had aboard.

When nothing was heard, Willis was virtually given up for lost. But Willis had estimated there was little likelihood of communication until he neared his destination, and he proved to be right.

When word reached Willis' wife in New York, she said, "I've been waiting a long time and it's been pretty tough."

Bull Pups, Foxes To Play Factory Benefit Game

Through the efforts of the Harrisburg Jaycees, a football game which should be of special interest to local fans has been arranged for next Wednesday night, Oct. 20, when John VanderPluym's McLeansboro Foxes will meet the HTHS Bull Pups at Taylor Field in a benefit game for the Jaycee factory fund.

Local grid fans have been following VanderPluym's record at McLeansboro with interest since the former HTHS and SIU ace accepted the coaching position there to put the Hamilton county town back in the football picture after a long absence from the grid scene. The Foxes have an excellent record, with victories over the Mt. Carmel, Carmi, and Fairfield "B" teams, and only one loss, a 14-6 defeat last night at Valier.

Tickets for the game, which will start at 7:30 Wednesday night, can be purchased from any Jaycee, from the Athletic House, or at the gate Wednesday night. There will also be two ticket booths on the square tomorrow — on the north side in front of Schnierle's, and on the south side in front of Skaggs Pharmacy. Through the cooperation of HTHS principal R. L. Foster, athletic director Lawrence Calufetti, and Bull Pup coaches Jim McKee and Jess Nichols, the Jaycee factory fund will receive the entire net proceeds from the gate, and the Jaycees are hoping that Harrisburg football fans will find the contest a painless method of contributing to an extremely worthwhile Jaycee project.

Cold Front Halts Rain in Chicago Area

CHICAGO (UP)— A cold front moved into the Chicago area today to end a long siege of rain, but the rising Yellow River still threatened severe damage to rich farmlands in northern Indiana.

Chill winds dropped the temperatures in Chicago to the mid 40s and the Weather Bureau said there would be no more rain either in the city or in Indiana.

The Yellow River, however, was still rising from earlier rains and had turned Knox, Ind., into a virtual island. It was surrounded on three sides by the overpouring river, which flows westerly into the Kankakee River.

The Yellow was expected to crest at 14.6 feet Saturday morning. Meanwhile, more than 300 volunteers sandbagged the Knox sewage disposal plant and built earthen dikes with bulldozers in efforts to save corn and soybean crops worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In the Chicago area, 130,000 persons put out of work by a power shortage started returning to their jobs. The Commonwealth Edison Co., which had two power plants flooded in the record weekend rains, lifted all restrictions on the use of electricity Thursday night.

Chlorination of the city's water supply, stepped up when the polluted Chicago River was diverted into Lake Michigan, was cut back to normal.

Kenneth Homewood, 27, Madison, Wis., barely escaped becoming the 20th victim of the rains when he was trapped for 30 minutes Thursday after his car plunged into a flooded drainage ditch near Moline, Ill.

Homewood saved himself by keeping his nose and mouth in a six-inch air space between the water and the floor of his overturned car until a companion, William Nitzsche, 26, Wausau, Wis., could bring help.

Norma Simpson Homecoming Queen at HTHS

Will Be Crowned Tonight; Parade Today at 4 p. m.

Miss Norma Simpson today prepared to reign over the 1954 Homecoming activities at Harrisburg Township high school, which include a parade this afternoon, a football game and coronation ceremony tonight.

Miss Simpson, HTHS senior who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Simpson, was announced as Homecoming Queen at a big pep rally held last night at Taylor Field.

She will ride in this afternoon's big parade which will be in the uptown area around 4 p. m., to be presented to the Taylor Field crowd tonight during the halftime intermission of the Harrisburg-Centralia football game, and be crowned in the coronation ceremony at the annual Homecoming dance following the game in Bonnell gymnasium.

Last night's pep rally, attended by approximately 600 persons despite the inclement weather, started off the week-end festivities. A booming bonfire was started at the northwest corner of the field and as it subsided the program got under way.

Players Introduced

Speakers were Lawrence Calufetti, head grid coach, who introduced his players, Gene Bland, assistant coach, Ken Hamilton of WEBQ and Tim Turner of The Daily Register and they were introduced by Mayor Ralph Horning, master of ceremonies.

Between talks there were yells and numbers by Marshall Cothran's HTHS band.

The identity of the Homecoming Queen was revealed by Calufetti at the conclusion of the pep rally. He explained just how she was chosen. The Senior class, he said, voted as a body on four Queen candidates and the other three classes voted to name an attendant. Then the football squad voted yesterday morning on its choice for the queen among the four candidates and chose Miss Simpson. The players themselves did not know whom they had chosen until Calufetti announced the results.

Other queen candidates were Misses Nigel Jenkins, Wanda Smith and Carolyn Herron. The class attendants are Misses Jane Lasersohn, junior, Pat Hodson, sophomore, and Patsy Schwartz, freshman.

At the coronation, freshman attendant, Patsy Schwartz, will be escorted by Bill Yates; sophomore attendant, Pat Hodson, will be escorted by Lou Ray Williams; and junior attendant, Jane Lasersohn, will be escorted by Jack Wright. The senior maids of honor, Nigel Jenkins, Wanda Smith, and Carolyn Herron, will be escorted by Jim Duram, Gary Trammell, and Richard Baldwin. The queen, Norma Simpson, will be escorted by the co-captains, Charles Polk and Eddie Seright.

The HTHS color guards for the ceremony are Judy Belt, Jean Abney, Dawan Martin, and Sue Kilmire. Trumpeters are Bill Bottomley, Jerry Holden, Bill Skaggs, and Dick Fritts; and pages are Doris Williams and Joann Priest. Announcer will be Oren Brown and organist is Mona Wickham.

Tonight's football game, against powerful Centralia, will start at 7:30 p. m.

Wilson Retires from Political Speech Making; Still Target of Attacks

WASHINGTON (UP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson retired from the political field of battle today with Democrats nipping at his heels for his celebrated observation on dogs and unemployment.

The plain-spoken secretary said his speech at a GOP rally in Chicago Wednesday night "winds it up as far as I am concerned . . . I am not in a humor to make another one."

Wilson was in a jovial mood when he talked with reporters here Thursday on his return from a six day trip that stirred one of the liveliest tempests of the congressional campaign. Wilson set off the furor Monday by referring to bird dogs and kennel dogs in the same breath with unemployment.

Distortion Denied

Sparkman noted that Wilson had declared his comment was "distorted by left-wing opponents." Sparkman ticked off the names of four Republican senators and one GOP governor who had taken exception to the dog remark, and declared:

"These men can read. It's not a question of distorting it. Anybody can read the statement. It shows Mr. Wilson is soured. He tries to alibi out of it by calling a great many of his own party left-wingers."

A spokesman for the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee declared that the Wilson remark had boosted Democratic chances of winning Congress in the Nov. 2 election. He said it would "incite rank and file labor to vote."

But Vice President Richard M. Nixon took an opposite view. He said the comment had been so distorted by Democrats that "the whole thing will end up as a 'plus' for our side."

Case Hits "Gutter Politics"

Nixon also predicted in a speech Thursday night at Houston, Tex., that the Democratic vote will be split this year as it was in 1952. He said "millions" of disgruntled Democrats will support President Eisenhower by voting for a Republican Congress.

CIO President Walter P. Reuther, one of the first to demand that Wilson apologize or resign for the comment, said he was pleased to learn the secretary "realized that he made a serious mistake."

In New Jersey, Republican senatorial candidate Clifford P. Case attacked as "gutter politics" a story linking his sister with Communist front organizations. The Newark Star-Ledger printed the story shortly after Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) announced he would support all GOP candidates except Case.

Report Vandalism By Pranksters Near Eldorado

Sheriff Paul Spangler yesterday investigated what appeared to be vandalism by pranksters in a rural area southwest and south of Eldorado.

Two tractors were taken and both were found, but one had been overturned and damaged in a ditch and the other, apparently undamaged, had run into a gate post and gate at Bixler school south of the city.

Spangler said that around 9 p. m. yesterday a corn wagon on the Tom Barton farm, Eldorado Route 3 near Wasson, was in the process of being moved by somebody when they were surprised by Mr. and Mrs. Barton and they fled, leaving the wagon in the road.

The same group apparently came back, however, because later the wagon was found in the middle of a bridge about a half mile from where it had been. Spangler said it was theorized it had been pulled there by a Barton tractor, which was found another half-mile away overturned in a deep ditch.

The same night a tractor was taken from the W. E. Kaid place on Harrisburg Route 4 and was driven to the Bixler school where the gate was hit and damaged. In backing it out, tracks revealed, the tractor went into a ditch and up into a field, where it was abandoned.

Spangler said that charges definitely would be filed if pranksters are found moving or damaging property.

Birch Magician Show, Sponsored by Kiwanis Club, at Bonnell Gym Nov. 2

Birch, America's foremost magician, with his company of assisting artists will perform at Bonnell gym Tuesday, Nov. 2, under the sponsorship of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club. Two performances will be given, a matinee for children and the regular evening performance.

The Birch show is the largest magic production now on tour in this country. Equipment, scenery and effects valued in excess of $25,000 are carried and will be seen at the local performances.

The Kiwanis club is sponsoring this show to raise money for its annual summer baseball program which is participated in by more than 300 boys, and for other youth activities.

Slicing a beautiful girl into four parts, shooting a live canary into a burning light bulb, causing a live pony to vanish in midair, and many other startling mysteries will be presented by this master magician and company in a magic pot-pourri of thrills and fun.

The current tour is Birch's 25th annual one, and his attractive personality makes him one of the most pleasing entertainers the magic world has ever produced. Thurston publicly declared that Birch is the only magician sufficiently talented to be his successor and the man he picked to "fill his shoes."

Heading the Birch staff as assisting artists is Mabel Sperry, hailed by critics as the world's greatest girl xylophonist. Miss Sperry charms music lovers everywhere with brilliant solos on her special built Marimba Xylophone.

Tickets for the local engagement will be available in advance from members of the Kiwanis club.

Myrtle Beach Takes First Blow of Storm

Eastern Seaboard Cities to Boston In Path of Storm

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UP) — A hurricane with a punch of at least 100 miles an hour smacked the South Carolina coast today, causing a number of injuries, and bored north toward population centers of the Eastern Seaboard.

No deaths were reported but "several" persons were reported on two missing small boats.

The American Red Cross appealed for help to alleviate the suffering at Myrtle Beach, a resort on the South Carolina Coast that took the first impact in the United States of mighty hurricane Hazel.

Mrs. Francis Hicks, president of the Columbia, S. C., Red Cross, said there were "a great many" injuries involving broken bones. Many coastal areas were isolated and without communications.

The storm was barreling toward the north at a rate of 27 miles an hour.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina ordered a company of National Guard troops to Myrtle Beach to prevent looting. The town reported that its water main had burst. North Carolina also called out some National Guardsmen.

Washington Schools Close

The advancing storm caused school officials in Washington, D. C., and nearby Alexandria, Va., to close schools at 1 p. m. because of the prospect of heavy rains and high winds.

The storm's punch — 130 miles an hour at sea — was blunted when it hit land. But damage was heavy at the point of impact.

Hurricane Hazel, the season's eighth tropical storm, was expected to follow a northerly course overland across North Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York.

Weather bureaus as far north as Boston issued periodic warnings.

An 11 a. m. advisory from the Miami Weather Bureau centered the storm about 25 miles inland from Myrtle Beach on a northerly course. It was barreling north at 27 miles an hour.

Gale winds were whipping out 250 miles to the east of center and 80 miles to the west.

The Weather Bureau said Hazel would slowly lose force on the overland haul but that "all precautions should be continued against dangerous winds and abnormally

27 Rail Cars Pile Up in Center of Town

Million Dollars Damage Caused At Gibson City, Ill.

GIBSON CITY, Ill. (UP)—Five persons narrowly escaped death as 23 cars of a 57-car freight train piled up in the center of this city near midnight Thursday, causing perhaps one million dollars damage.

The Nickel Plate railroad train, going almost 50 miles per hour, careened through an open switch. The derailed train hit three parked railroad cars on a siding and an auto waiting at a crossing. The jackknifing train finally piled up in a heap of debris 60 feet high.

Three women employes of the Gibson City hospital who occupied the auto escaped injury when their car was knocked 15 feet.

Two railroad employes sleeping in a caboose on a siding were uninjured even though debris was piled over the caboose.

None of the trainmen was injured.

Fifteen hogs were killed out of three cars of hogs consigned for the Indianapolis stockyards. Other hogs roamed Gibson City until they were rounded up by volunteers.

Ties Up Traffic

The double-Diesel engine unit pulling the freight train was smashed and derailed. The front Diesel burst into flames, which were extinguished by the Gibson City fire department.

One of the derailed cars went against the Gibson City water tower. Trainmen said if the car had not been empty it might have crushed the tower supports and sent it crashing down.

The wreck, near a junction of the Nickel Plate, Illinois Central and Wabash railroad tracks, tied up traffic on all three lines. The Wabash and Illinois Central tracks were cleared by this morning.

Nickel Plate tracks were not expected to be cleared before Saturday. The railroad's trains were being re-routed over the Illinois Central through Gilman and Paxton.

The wrecked train's engineer was Oland Small and the conductor was Ray Shipley, both of Frankfort, Ind.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Paul Hoffman Declines Ike's Offer Of Indian Envoyship; State Department Now Recognizes It Was Mistake To Remove Ambassador Bowles; Republic Steel Cracked Down On Feuding GOP In New Jersey.

WASHINGTON.—President Eisenhower has been so anxious to patch up our sagging relations with India that he has tried to persuade Paul Hoffman, former administrator for the Marshall Plan, to take the post as U. S. ambassador to India.

It will probably be denied, but the State Department has even considered the idea of asking Chester Bowles, the Democrat who was removed as envoy to India, to go back again.

Unfortunately, it has been impossible to persuade Hoffman to accept. His problems with the Studebaker Motor Company which he heads, plus his negotiations with Nash-Hudson aimed at keeping small auto companies from being swallowed by the big three, make any foreign assignment impossible.

Also, State Department advisers are doubtful that Bowles would be palatable to the hard core of GOP advisers around Eisenhower even though acceptable to Ike himself.

Bowles, a former Democratic governor of Connecticut and head of the price control agency during the war, was a sensational success in India. He became a close personal friend of Prime Minister Nehru and was hailed by the Indian masses as their champion. Following Eisenhower's inauguration, however, he was pulled out of India and replaced by career diplomat George Allen.

Allen has now been recalled to Washington and will not return to India. He is expected to replace Henry Byroade as assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern Affairs.

Note — Allen was an excellent envoy to Yugoslavia, put our relations with Tito on an even keel. But handling dictator Tito and aesthete Nehru are two different things, and Allen was not a success in India.

SUDDEN SILENCE IN JERSEY

If you want to know why a sudden hush has settled down over squabbling Republicans in New Jersey you won't have far to go.

The answer is the Republic Steel Corporation, which, in cooperation with the White House, pulled one of the neatest bits of pressure politics in the current campaign.

For over a month Jim Selvage, public relations counsel and former vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, had been bombarding New Jersey voters with a steady stream of denunciation against GOP senatorial candidate Clifford Case, all because Case was opposed to Senator McCarthy.

Also snapping at Case's heels were ex-Congressman Fred Hartley, the man who co-authored the Taft-Hartley Act and who is extremely close to the National Retail Dry Goods Association; together with ex-Sen. Albert Hawkes, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The rift they caused in the Republican party made it almost certain that a Democrat, Congressman Charles Howell, would win.

However, Jim Selvage has now suddenly clammed up. Simultaneously, Fred Hartley, who talked about jumping into the race against Case, has departed to fill some speaking engagements. And ex-Senator Hawkes has gone on a vacation.

Reason: Republic Steel, which is strong in the councils of big business and which feeds public relations business into the firm of Selvage, Lee and Chase, did a little quiet talking to the New Jersey rebels.

The astute maneuver was engineered primarily by Bernard Shanley of the White House staff, who checked with Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate, and with ex-Gov. Walter Edge of New Jersey to see who were the chief clients of the Selvage public relations firm. The next moves were made by James Black, a vice president of Republic Steel, who goes in and out of the White House side doors as one of Ike's best anonymous friends; and by Charley White, head of Republic Steel.

Selvage immediately took the hint, decided that Republic Steel business was more important than Jersey politics.

And that is why everything is so quiet along the Jersey banks of the Delaware.

Note — The idea of using the steel companies to pressure key politicians was developed by Governor Dewey during Ike's nominating race. When Gov. John Fine of Pennsylvania suddenly switched from Taft to Eisenhower there was just one reason: the influence of U. S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel, which pack powerful weight in Pennsylvania.

POLITICAL PIPELINE

Vice President Nixon got quite irked the other day when he couldn't even half fill the hall for his major speech in Bergen county, New Jersey, normally the showpiece of GOP strength in that state . . . Less than 600 people were sprinkled through Teaneck high school auditorium — capacity 1,200 — to hear the vice president of the United States . . . Nixon was boiling mad, upbraided GOP leaders for loafing. What really got his goat was that about 200 of the crowd were children . . . Republicans are planning to dump a lot of money into Montana during the closing days of the campaign in an all-out effort to defeat Sen. Jim Murray, a liberal Democrat who would head up the Labor committee if the Democrats control the next Senate. Congressman D'Ewart, Murray's opponent, introduced the notorious "giveaway" grazing bill which would have turned a large part of the national forests over to cattlemen. They have raised a reputed $100,000 kitty to help him . . . Out in Minnesota Sen. Hubert Humphrey is publishing the "Barbershop News Letter." "Once the towel is tucked around your neck," says Humphrey, "the barber is the great equalizer of all classes. Furthermore, the barber is one man to whom we all take off our hats." So he's sending a political news letter to all barbershops.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The Justice Department has put one of its best crime-busters, Max Goldschein, in charge of prosecuting federal housing scandals. Goldschein was the man assigned by Attorney General Tom Clark to crack down on Frankie Costello . . . The Brookhaven atomic laboratory on Long Island got a scare recently. Employees going into the laboratory were found to be highly radioactive even before they came in contact with the atomic pile. For a few minutes, the scientists feared something drastic had gone wrong. They soon figured out, however, that a high-altitude windstream had carried atomic radiation all the way from the Nevada tests and deposited the radioactive fall-out — of all places — on the Brookhaven laboratory in New York.

First Baptist T. E. L. Class Holds Installation of Officers

The T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. T. O. Endicott recently.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the class song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and with prayer by Mrs. S. T. Zinn.

Mrs. Mima Woolard read the 14th chapter of St. John, and Mrs. Charles Mitchell gave an interesting account of mission work in Harrisburg. Mrs. Woolard also directed an impressive installation service for the new class officers.

Pumpkin pie, whipped cream, coffee and candy were served to 18 members and the teacher, Mrs. Ethel Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Burnam have returned from Miami Beach, Fla., where he attended the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and they remained for six weeks to bask in Florida sunshine.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Mugge have returned from an extended visit with their children in Springfield and Champaign. They left in August to visit Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherertz and family in Springfield and went from there to Champaign to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ted Swartz.

Dulles Keeps State Dep't Out of Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has gone to unusual lengths to keep the State Department and foreign policy from becoming embroiled in the election campaign, it was learned today.

Dulles has cancelled several speeches and avoided making statements that might be controversial. Other top department officials have carefully followed his lead. The State Department has issued a 600-word warning to all employes in this country to scrupulously avoid improper political activity.

Scott McLeod, Dulles' top aide on security affairs, isn't making any campaign speeches this year, although he made a political speaking trip through South Dakota and Wyoming last February that kicked up a major inter-party row.

The anti-politicking policy extends all the way to the Island of Mallorca off the Spanish Coast. Fhruston Morton, assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, is there on a two-month leave of absence which he requested so he could avoid any campaign commitments. As a former congressman from Kentucky, he feared heavy pressure to help the party out.

Dulles announced Aug. 24 he would stay out of the campaign but that he would make a speech or two. Now these have been cancelled, aides said. The secretary also isn't risking any controversy on other fronts. He hasn't held a press conference since Aug. 24 and he recently discarded plans for a report to the nation on the London conference on German rearmament. He also is out of town this week and will leave for Europe Tuesday.

The State Department's 600-word warning to its employes, dated last Tuesday, lists 13 political activities barred to federal employes by the Hatch Act. Top officials, appointed by the President, are the only ones exempted.

Youth is Nabbed As 'Peeping Tom'

George Tison, 19-year-old local youth twice previously arrested by city police during the past year and a half for "Peeping Tom" activities, was nabbed by a resident of the 100 block of West Lincoln avenue last night after he was caught peeping into his house.

The man's wife heard a noise and told her husband, who grabbed up a shotgun and hurried around to the rear of the house. There he saw the youth looking into the window and fired a shotgun blast over Tison's head.

Tison started hurrying away but halted when the man yelled that he'd shoot again if he didn't stop.

The youth was taken to the city jail by city police who were called. The incident occurred at about 8:45 p. m.

Charter Issued Early for Stratton-For-Governor Club

SPRINGFIELD —(AP)— An Illinois corporation charter has been issued to a "Stratton for Governor Club" —two years before the next gubernatorial election.

The secretary of state's office today reported it issued the charter to Hardin E. Hanks, John H. Glenn and G. G. Edwards, Beardstown. The organization's purpose is to "promote the election of William G. Stratton to public office."

Stratton's term as governor does not expire until January, 1957. He has not said yet whether he'll seek a second term.

Nation's Economy Stable, Federal Reserve Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board has disclosed that continuance of construction activity at a record level and a large volume of retail sales kept the nation's economic activity stable last month.

Industrial production showed a 2-point rise, about usual for that time of year, and went to 126 per cent of the 1947-49 average, the board reported Thursday. This stability has been foreshadowed by the virtually unchanged non-agricultural employment reported for September.

The industrial production index still was 9 percentage points below the 135 of a year ago. Production of durable goods, such as refrigerators and machinery, held steady after seasonal adjustments. A rise in steel and lumber production offset a decline in auto output resulting from model changeovers.

Production of most major household goods remained unchanged from August. Output of coal and other minerals also showed little change last month.

Ship Sinks in Lake Michigan; Crew Rescued

MILWAUKEE, Wis. —(AP)— A marine board of inquiry conducted an investigation today into the sinking of a 1,500-ton Dutch freighter in choppy Lake Michigan on Thursday night.

All 30 of the men aboard the Prinz Willem V were rescued and most of them didn't even get wet. The only injury was a cut finger suffered by a coast guardsman.

The Willem went down three miles off Milwaukee a half hour after it hit a tug's towline. A gasoline-filled barge which the tug was pulling smashed twice into the freighter's hull, opening a yawning hole in the starbord helm.

The ship's captain, P. G. A. Huilmand, was the last man to leave the vessel. Coast guardsmen said they took Huilmand and a sailor off the Willem "just before she went down."

Huilmand and other officers were closeted immediately with Coast Guard officials after they reached shore. Coast Guard Commander Edward Clark was scheduled to hold a news conference on the sinking later today.

The Coast Guard cutter Hollyhock arrived at the scene 20 minutes after the collision.

The crew members had already had time to pile into two lifeboats and the Willem was listing to starboard. It finally went down by the bow in 80 feet of water.

The Willem went down shortly after it had left Milwaukee harbor with a 730-ton mixed cargo for Sarnia, Ont. Its loss was valued at three million dollars.

Meek to Meet With Eisenhower At Indianapolis

WHEATON, Ill. —(AP)— Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, interrupted his down-state tour today to fly to Indianapolis, Ind., for a meeting with President Eisenhower.

Meek announced Thursday that Mr. Eisenhower had requested in a telegram that he come to Indianapolis for a meeting before the President delivers a farm policy speech.

"This will be the third time I have met him (Mr. Eisenhower,") Meek said. "Both in our meetings and by messages, he has at all times shown a special graciousness toward me and an understanding of our problems in Illinois."

Meek said if he had the "slightest opportunity I will definitely invite President Eisenhower to come into Illinois soon in behalf of the Republican cause."

Rain forced Meek's small chartered plane to land in a pasture near Aroma Park in Kankakee County Thursday while he was flying to an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce meeting in Chicago.

Meek continued the trip by car and arrived in time to debate his Democratic opponent, Sen. Paul H. Douglas.

Closing Services Sunday of McKinley Baptist Revival

Revival services will continue through this weekend at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, with Dr. S. H. Frazier Sr., of Marshall, Texas, to preach his closing messages Sunday.

At the service Sunday at 10:40 a. m. Dr. Frazier will use as a subject, "What Think Ye of Christ?" and his subject for the 7:30 p. m. service has been announced as "The Patient Christ."

Eight were baptized following last Sunday evening's service and several others will be baptized this Sunday evening.

Rev. J. D. McCarty, church pastor, invites the public to attend the remaining services, and urges those enrolled in Sunday school, as well as those not attending some other school, to help reach a goal of 600 set for this Sunday. It is also anticipated that 200 will be in Training Union at 6:30 p. m.

Find Cobden Man Dead in Auto

ANNA, Ill. (AP)—John Meredith, 24, Cobden, Ill., apparently died from an overdose of sedatives, authorities said today.

Alexander county authorities said they found barbital tablets in the car and in his mouth.

Hurricane Hits South Carolina Coast

high tides" on the North Carolina coast and north of there.

Resort Town Hit

Myrtle Beach, a resort town on the unprotected South Carolina coast, took the first blow in the U. S. from Hazel. Bridges and piers were washed away and communications were non-existent.

The first reported injury was at Georgetown, S. C. No deaths were reported.

Coastal residents had been warned by radio and airplanes to get out of the storm's path.

Amateur radio operators soon became the only contact with isolated beach towns. The Red Cross was trying to get in with medical supplies, food and dry clothing.

Ominous red and black hurricane flags were raised along the Virginia Capes and storm warnings were issued as far north as Eastport, Maine.

Civil Air Patrol Capt. Miller Crosland said Myrtle Beach is "in bad shape" with all piers washed away and two to four feet of water in low areas. He said many houses were blown over and that damage was heavy.

Crosland said there were numerous minor injuries but no fatalities.

Escapes Full Blast

Wilmington, which did not get the full force of the storm, reported wind gusts up to 98 miles an hour at 11 a. m. Southern Bell reported 80 per cent of its telephone lines knocked out in the port city.

Gusts of nearly 70 miles per hour were registered at the Cherry Point, N. C., Marine Air Station.

More than 300 persons took refuge in the two shelters on the station and in nearby Havelock. Marine buses continued to tour residential sections picking up additional evacuees.

Lamont Pleads Innocent To Contempt Charge

NEW YORK —(AP)— Corliss Lamont, author and educator, pleaded innicent today to a charge of contempt of Congress for his refusal to answer questions before Sen. Joseph McCarthy's investigating subcommittee.

Judge Sylvester J. Ryan set bail for Lamont at $2,000 in Manhattan Federal Court pending arguments Oct. 29 on a motion to dismiss the indictment.

Du Quoin Council Orders Economy Firing of Four

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — The Du Quoin City Council has ordered an economy firing that will eliminate four city jobs at the end of today's work shifts.

The jobs eliminated are waterworks superintendent, one police patrolman, one fireman and the health officer. Mayor Renos Miller said the cutback will save the city $12,000.

The four employes are members of the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 524. A union officer said the local discussed the cutback and will take action if there is a violation of the contract.

The economy move will leave the city with two full-time firemen working 12-hour shifts and three full-time police officers.

The city already is paying on two working cash fund bond issues and will probably have to borrow $5,000 at tonight's council meeting to meet operating expenses, Finance Commissioner Granville Fry said.

Menard Prison Inmates Pay Tribute to Guard

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The State Public Safety Department told today of a tribute paid by Menard Prison inmates to a "conscientious and sincere" guard who recently died.

The Menard Time, monthly newspaper published by the prisoners, printed the tribute under the heading "In Memoriam." It said:

"To regretfully note and mark the sudden, untimely passing of Sgt. Walter Fiene, we, the inmate body of the psychiatric division, without single exception, herewith express our sorrow and heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved loved ones of his immediate family, his host of friends and acquaintances."

The article said Fiene was "conscientious and sincere in his efforts toward rehabilitation of the inmates in his immediate charge." It said he always had a "smile of good will" for everyone.

Fiene, 59, Steeleville, died Sept. 28. Menard Warden Ross V. Randolph said inmates were permitted to contribute small sums of money for flowers at the funeral.

Reds Fail to Make Good on Threat

TAIPEI, Formosa —(AP)— The Communists failed to make good on their threat to storm and capture the Nationalist outpost island of Quemoy by today.

The Red Chinese had bragged and boasted in propanganda broadcasts that the island would be in their hands by Oct. 15.

Although Quemoy has been under Communist gunfire almost daily since Sept. 3, the Reds have made no attempt at invasion.

Pressures May Boost Taxes: Hollingsworth

CHICAGO (AP)—Higher taxes may result from problems facing the next Illinois Legislature, Morton H. Hollingsworth, director of finance, said today.

He told the Illinois Chamber of Commerce that "enormous pressure" is building up for more state aid for schools.

The needs of state universities and colleges, the public assistance programs, welfare and penal institutions, local government and state building improvements also are major financial problems, he said.

"You may be assured that this administration is dedicated to the same care exercised in the last biennium and will diligently work to keep your state a low tax state and at the same time maintain efficiently the functions of your government," Hollingsworth said.

May Provide Local Increases

In meeting the school crisis, Hollingsworth said, "more local effort and increased state aid appear inevitable."

He said that the formula of state school aid distribution may have to be changed to require higher local taxes in order to qualify for state aid.

"The present school formula, if left unchanged, would cost Illinois about 42 million dollars more and the hard fact is that kind of money is not available," he said.

The difficulties of local governments also raise the possibility of higher taxes, he said. If the Legislature cannot provide more state aid for cities, the body may approve local tax increases without local referendums.

"Such increases, especially for schools, seem almost inevitable unless the services are to be cut," Hollingsworth said.

Federal Reserve District Income Shows Decline in the Rural Areas

Total income in the Eighth Federal Reserve district in 1953 was greater than in 1952, but the gain was less than in the immediately preceding years, the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis reports in the feature article of its October Monthly Review.

Income for 1953 is estimated to have reached $13,800,000,000, more than five per cent above the amount received in 1952.

On a per capita basis, district residents received an average of $1,289 in 1953 as compared with $1,238 in the previous year.

The bank observes that while 1953 thus takes its place at the top of a procession of four record years, this fact is overshadowed by a change of pace within the year. During the latter part of the year, income payments were still ahead of 1953, but by a narrower margin.

Most areas in the district, which consists of all of Arkansas, most of Missouri, southern Illinois and Indiana, western Kentucky and Tennessee, and northern Mississippi, participated in the moderate increase in income from 1952 to 1953, the Reserve Bank study shows.

Areas with above-average income growth were concentrated in the Ohio Valley where government and industrial payrolls, especially in chemical and electrical manufacturing industries, continued their postwar gains.

Among major metropolitan centers, St. Louis showed the largest increase (eight per cent) with a per capita income of $2,297. Evansville and Louisville also surpassed the $2,000 mark. The prevailing pattern was an advance of five or less percentage points.

Farming, Mining "Soft Spots"

In the Ozarks and other rural sections of the district, per capita income in 1953 was below that of 1952. This reflects the fact that while most segments of the district economy continued to set new records well into the year, agriculture was experiencing further downward adjustments. Cash farm receipts increased slightly in the year, but there was a sizable increase in farmers' production expenses, the bank notes. Another "soft" spot in the district economy was the coal mining industry.

In terms of per capita income, only four of 99 areas, into which the district was divided for purposes of analysis, were at par with the nation in 1953. However, these four more urbanized areas contained 20 per cent of the district population.

As many as 70 areas had per capita income of less than 70 per cent of the national average while 31 areas received less than half.

The latter group grew from 27 areas in 1952 to 31 in 1953, highlighting the relative deterioration of the district's position in the national economy last year, the Reserve Bank notes.

Wisconsin, Purdue Title Hopes at Stake in Game Tomorrow; OSU Meets Iowa

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin and Purdue, who two years ago tied for the Big Ten championship, risk their title hopes for the 1954 campaign against each other Saturday in the feature conference game of the week.

Both teams have gone without defeat through three games this season, but Purdue was tied by Duke, 13-13, a week ago after its upset triumph over Notre Dame the previous Saturday.

Each club features standout passing with sophomore Len Dawson as the Purdue sharpshooter who has connected on 53 per cent of his throws for eight of the Boilermakers' 11 touchdowns.

Against this aerial threat Wisconsin can muster two throwers who have hit on more than 60 per cent of their efforts, the number one pitcher, Jim Miller, and the number two man, Jim Haluska. Miller has thrown for 252 yards and two touchdowns and Haluska for 147 and one TD.

The ground battle will match the Badgers' two-time all conference fullback, Alan Ameche, against Purdue's running threats of Bill Murakowski, Jim Peters and Rex Brock. So far Wisconsin's halfbacks have not been standouts, but Ameche has rambled for 324 yards and a 5.7 yard per carry average.

It will be the first Big Ten game for Purdue and Wisconsin's second. The Badgers gained their first league win over Michigan State, 6-0.

Purdue, which hasn't beaten Wisconsin since 1945, is a one touchdown underdog for the affair.

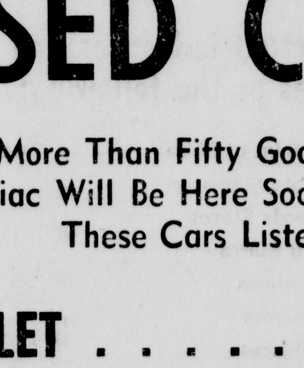

Ohio State, the temporary conference leader with two wins in as many starts, will face a potential cinderella team in Iowa. The Hawkeyes were boomed as pre-season dark horses and gained more prominence with a 14-10 win over Michigan State in their opener. But Michigan broke through last week for a 14-13 win. Ohio State is a touchdown choice.

Minnesota, also unbeaten in three games with one conference win, is a two touchdown favorite over Illinois—defending co-champion of the league which has yet to win this year—for their match at Minneapolis, while Michigan is a touchdown favorite over Northwestern in the other Big Ten battles.

Notre Dame and Michigan State meet at South Bend in a major non-conference scrap and the Irish who have lost three straight to the Spartans, are a 13 point favorite.

Indiana is a 3-point choice over Missouri in another non-league battle.

Bradley University Re-Enters Missouri Valley Conference

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bradley university has rejoined the Missouri Valley conference from which it seceded three years ago.

Commissioner Artie E. Eilers announced Thursday night the Peoria, Ill., school's governing body had unanimously approved a motion to re-enter the conference.

Bradley withdrew from the conference in 1951 in a gesture of sympathy toward Drake university which also left the MVC after its star halfback Johnny Bright was slugged in a game with Oklahoma A&M.

Eilers said the readmission date for Bradley is Jan. 1, 1955, and that the school will start conference competition in baseball, golf, track and tennis next spring.

High School Grid Player Dies in Crash

ANTIOCH, Ill. (AP)— An Antioch high school football player was killed and two others were injured critically in an automobile crash, but school officials said Saturday's homecoming game against Glenbrook would go on as scheduled.

Two other high school boys also were hurt in the auto smashup near here Thursday night.

School officials said that the Glenbrook game would be played, and a homecoming rally and dance would be held as scheduled tonight. They said the events had been long planned for, and many persons had announced intentions of attending.

Sheriff's deputies said William Blake, 17, Antioch, was driver of one of the cars, which went through a stop sign and crashed into another.

The dead youth was Melvin (Butch) Wohlfeil Jr., 18, Antioch. Wohlfeil was a star end on the Antioch sophomore football team.

Critically injured at Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan were Blake; Ben Floyd, 17, Lake Villa; and Eugene Vaughan, 17, Millburn. Eugene Balmes, RR 2, Antioch, suffered lesser injuries.

Blake, a regular on the Antioch high school football team, suffered severe lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

Floyd, who was riding with Blake and is also a member of the Antioch varsity, had a crushed chest and lacerations. Vaughan suffered a punctured lung and possible skull fracture, while Balmes, the driver of the other car, escaped with lacerations and a back injury.

The deputies said Balmes' car overturned after the crash, pinning Wohlfeil beneath it. Wohlfeil's mother said he had gone to a movie at Fox Lake with Vaughan and the youths had then agreed to drive into Waukegan with Balmes.

East St. Louis High Wins 26th Straight Grid Game

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP)—East St. Louis high school won its 26th consecutive football game Thursday night with a 13-0 shutout of the strong St. Louis University high school Junior Billikens.

After a scoreless first half, the Flyers capitalized on a fumbled kickoff at the start of the third quarter and halfback Walt Shankle scored from the one-foot line seven plays later.

Shankle scored East St. Louis' second touchdown in the fourth period after a 60-yard run by fullback Jack Purdy to the Junior Bills' five.

QUICK KICKS

By CHET SMITH
Written for NEA Service

Bob Zuppke, one of the most colorful coaching characters of all time, was readying his Illinois team for its traditionally - bitter game with Chicago in the fall of 1922.

Chicago was powerful that year. Amos Alonzo Stagg was still several seasons ahead of the deflation program that was to sweep the Maroon off the gridiron.

Zuppke feared one Chicago play in particular, and this afternoon he had worked long and hard to defend against it. The freshmen, using the Chicago offense, were ordered to run the play against the varsity.

From midfield, the frosh opened up. The left halfback, a long-legged kid, took the snapback, raced to his right and cut through tackle. In a swirl of flying bodies he was into the secondary where, with a baffling hip-twist, he broke loose and ran to the goal line.

"Zup" fumed. The defense he had labored to perfect had been punctured—but he would have another look.

The teams were called back and again the ball went to the same back. It was a repetition of the first act. Again not a varsity hand was laid on the yearling speedster.

As the boy disappeared into the gloom toward the goal, Zuppke scratched his head reflectively.

"Dere's some consolation," he muttered in his quaint Dutch accent, "dot poy is going to make a great coach outta me next year."

He wasn't wrong. During the next three years both "Zup" and Illinois rode to fame on the heels of Red Grange.

8 Lettermen To Return to SIU Cage Squad

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois university basketball coach Lynn Holder will have eight lettermen, 11 other veterans and 24 promising freshmen to work with when practice starts Oct. 15.

Captain Gib Kurtz, six-foot senior guard from East St. Louis, heads a list of returning veterans which includes juniors: Dick Blythe, Hammond, Ind., Jack Morgan, Carbondale, Gene Tabacchi, Auburn, and Pete Baggett, Marion, and sophomores Gordon Lambert, Marion, Wayman Holder, Carbondale, and Bill Wood, Lawrenceville.

Lost through graduation this spring was Jacque Theriot, last year's captain and chief ball handler. Theriot led last year's squad to a 12-11 season record and a 7-5 IIAC conference mark.

Eleven cagers who didn't see enough action last season to earn letters are: senior David Stroup, Carbondale, junior Ed Upton, McLeansboro, and these sophomores: Bill Kalin, Bluford; Jim Shaw, Grand Chain; Jim Good, Robinson, Don Tresh, New Athens; John Gelch, Sesser; Norby Vogel, Valmeyer; Larry Havens, Hurst Bush; Jack Burke, Herrin; and Jerry Cooksey, Centralia.

Several outstanding prep stars are among Holder's freshman group. They include: Larry Whitlock, 6-5 center of the Mt. Vernon state champs last year; Marion Rushing, 6-3 star forward of Pinckneyville's 1953-54 third place winners in the state tourney; and Carl Smith, 6-3 Herrin forward, who was one of the best rebounders in southern Illinois prep basketball last season.

Other leading freshman prospects include:

Ron Culbreth, Carrier Mills, and Bob Orto, Joe Upchurch and Sam Duane of Galatia.

Southern will play host to Millikin university of Decatur in the season opener Dec. 4.

Mayo Smith is Named Manager Of the Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia baseball fans, their familiar world crumbling around them, were presented with "unknown" Manager Mayo Smith by the Phillies today in a move that caught the experts flat-footed.

Terry Moore's successor at the Phils' helm, a slim and soft-spoken ex-Athletics outfielder, caught off base writers and fans who were braced for the hiring of a big name pilot.

But actually, the naming of the ex-manager of the Birmingham Barons in the Southern Association to a one-year pact followed a practice that rapidly is becoming a tradition with Owner - President Bob Carpenter—raiding the empire of the New York Yankees.

The new manager, who led the Barons to a fourth-place finish in 1953, then brought them home in third place last season, was the third Phillies pilot who has worn Yankee baseball livery.

Hired by another ex-Yank, General Manager J. Roy Hamey, Smith immediately announced that much-rumored Philadelphia trading this year will be the concern of the front office and not his.

Carpenter, who likes a surprise as well as the next man, brought Smith into a press conference of Philadelphia writers who have had their share of shocks from American league baseball lately. For the fans, it came with a backdrop of virtual loss of the Athletics to Kansas City.

Before Smith was introduced, speculation was about evenly divided among the experts between Lou Boudreau, ousted Boston Red Sox manager, or Lefty O'Doul of San Diego in the Pacific Coast league.

At first, Jim thought he had entered a huge underground cavern. A second look showed that Mrs. Oswald's studio had been set up in what must once have been the ballroom of the original stone structure.

The old woman herself was perched on a high stool beside a 20-foot-long worktable. She looked up when the two entered, glanced at her watch and then went on methodically with the work at hand. Because he had seen it before, in a more pleasing shape, Jim was able to recognize the trout even though it was now turned inside out.

The table itself, and every available space on the walls, was filled with samples of Mrs. Oswald's taxidermy. A peculiar odor of both preservation and decay filled the whole room. At the far end of the table from the old woman, a great horned owl grabbed frantically and lopsidedly at a papier-mache stump with twisted and misshapen talons.

Mrs. Oswald dropped her brush, pushed aside the fish skin. Apparently she had followed the direction of Jim's glance because she went on, "Not one of my better efforts, that owl. In the first place I didn't give the inside of the skin a thick coating of potter's clay." She sighed. "But then, it wouldn't have mattered. I tried to get fancy instead of using Graves' mixture of arsenic and alum."

Sheriff Agnes Argyle said, "I'm sorry about this, Mrs. Oswald. Your granddaughter."

The old woman looked down at her gnarled hand, closed it carefully and experimentally. She winced at the pain from arthritic knuckles. When she spoke again her voice had regained its customary harshness. "Well, you're the official. What're you going to do about it?"

There was an understanding between these two women which went beyond the usual, far beyond the relationship of an elective officer in the presence of the power that is.

* * *

Mrs. Oswald deigned to notice him again. "What are you doing here? Why aren't you out threatening other old women with a spanking?" She made the cackling sound which passed with her as a laugh.

"He's a private detective," Agnes said.

Mrs. Oswald's shrewd eyes probed.

"So," Mrs. Oswald said. She turned again to Agnes. "Kit?" she asked.

"Yes. She hired him. And his wife."

"Still worried about that California business, is she?"

"You can be impersonal about suspicion," Jim said, "until it touches you yourself."

"What have we here?" Mrs. Oswald demanded. She lifted her hooded eyelids for a clearer view. "Agnes, tell Mrs. Hilton I think she's a fool."

"Yes, Mrs. Oswald."

Jim did not see how the two remarks followed each other.

"But never mind. I suppose Philip has told you what we all were doing while — my granddaughter died?"

"Yes," Agnes said again and this time in her official voice. "Do you corroborate his story?"

There was that harsh cackle again. "Of course I do. Didn't I tell him what to say? And for your benefit, Mr. Dunn, it's the truth."

Sheriff Agnes said, "Could you think of any reason why anyone would want to kill Angelica?"

She put a sudden and unaccustomed quaver in her voice. "I'm an old, old woman and I wouldn't know about such things, Sheriff."

"Why should she have gone to The Spires in the first place?"

"Angelica always liked the place. I never did. That's the reason it got so run down I gave it to Pete —for his honeymoon. But Mrs. Kit wouldn't come at all—then."

Jim said carefully, "My client, Mrs. Kit, was suspect in the death of a man in California. That was proven accidental to the satisfaction of the police. Now a woman dies or is killed in the basement of the house Mrs. Kit occupies. Once again she is alone with her faithful cook, Mrs. Gelstrap. Coincidence?"

"Angelica could have been killed by the accidental fall of that elevator."

"If the death was accidental, the person who moved the body might have had a grudge against Mrs. Kit. You can see that, can't you?"

* * *

The old woman waved a gnarled hand. "You don't have to be obvious with me. Of course I see it. Another body wouldn't look so good for your client. I hear Miss Wister has the Carlson temper? Who would have expected it of her?"

Jim gave up trying to direct the conversation. "What relation is Miss Wister to you?"

Mrs. Oswald cackled. "From what I've been told the relationship could be purely murderous. Angelica saw Miss Wister occasionally. Sneaked off to see her, just as she sneaked away to marry that Jones man. After we had a suitable marriage arranged for her too!"

"If she hadn't sneaked away to marry, would you have let her?"

"That's none of your business. The important thing is that Angelica may have seen Miss Wister once too often."

There it was, out in the open. An accident, or suspicion directed toward Miss Wister.

Flanders Urges GOP To More Liberal View

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.) Thursday night called on Republicans to adopt a more "liberal view or the days of Republican power are numbered."

In a speech before a men's club here, Flanders said conservatism does have "a real solid, negative value. Every proposal for improving society should pass through the fire of conservative criticism."

But, he added, "if you have all liberals, as happened in the Democratic administrations, or all conservatives, as some Republicans would have it today, you don't have good government."

A powerful agent is the right word. Whenever we come upon one of those intensely right words in a book or a newspaper the resulting effect is physical as well as spiritual, and electrically prompt.

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS OF SALINE COUNTY

Layman Jones

Republican Candidate For

SHERIFF

General Election Tuesday, Nov. 2nd.

In order to introduce myself to the voters of Saline County who are not acquainted with me, I want to give this brief account of myself.

I am a life long resident of Saline County, having resided in Eldorado Township my entire life, except the 38 months which I served with the United States Navy during World War II. I attended the grade and high schools of Eldorado where I graduated in 1938. After graduation from high school, I entered the employ of the American Bakery of Eldorado as a route salesman of their bakery products and have continuously been in their employ, except for the period of time I was in service.

In 1942 I married Aileen Tolbert of Carrier Mills, the daughter of the late Esco and Nora Tolbert. We have one son nine years of age.

My family and I attend the College Heights Baptist Church in Eldorado regularly. I am a member of the Eldorado Lodge No. 730, A. F. & A. M., I.O.O.F. lodge No. 375, and have always supported all civic projects for the betterment of the community in which I reside.

I feel that my background of business experience and war service together with my wide knowledge of the problems of Saline County qualifies me for this important office of Sheriff.

I sincerely promise the citizens of Saline County if you elect me your Sheriff that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office fairly and impartially being always responsible to the people for my conduct in office.

Any consideration that you may give my candidacy by your influence and vote will be sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,

LAYMAN JONES
